The future belongs to the inner journey. It is in the inner world that we discover ourselves, develop ourselves, and connect to ourselves.

The future absolutely requires empathic and compassionate leadership. It is when we see ourselves that we are able to see the other.

We believe that the future requires all your courage, your strength, your light, and your ability to lead. When you embrace yourself fully, you inspire others to do the same.

A VISIONARY MISSION

After having immersed in astrology, numerology and Human Design for several years, we have experienced the synergies of the systems and how they create new, deeply meaningful insights in interaction with each other.

With The Maia System we wish to unfold this territory further and spread the magic to as many people as possible, starting with futuristic people all around the globe, so that they can use it to raise their awareness, intuition, and inner joy and pass it on to their tribe of people.

Every person who joins The Maia System is on to something bigger and has a unique motivation for joining. We are so grateful for your interest in evolving your personal leadership through the The Maia System and look much forward to working with you.

A PROGRAM FOR THE FUTURE

The journey goes inward

The journey goes inward. If we want to change the world, we need to change ourselves. Outer impact must go hand in hand with inner growth. There is no more time or space for hypocrisy, playing small, and living in the shadow. The human being of the future is a true example of what it stands for, works for, and fights for. To live one's highest potential requires deep self-awareness and the will and skill to translate one's capabilities into practice. And that's what The Maia System is all about.

The future is spiritual

There is no way around it. The future is empathic, soft, emotional, intuitive, feminine, compassionate, human, spiritual - call it whatever you wish. There is no way that you can become or remain successful without raising your "humanness" and mastering yourself deeply. Through The Maia System you develop your personality, consciousness, intuition, compassion, and leadership from self-awareness.

UNFOLD YOUR MAGIC

ALL WALKS OF LIFE

No matter your age, race, gender, nationality, and position, your curiosity, passion, and eager to grow and expand is key to benefiting from The Maia System. Possessing a combination of curiosity, openness, future-orientation, and spirituality make you a good match to The Rocket Journey.

★ SEEKERS

You seek a spiritual understanding of life and is on a deep inner quest for meaning, connection, and transcendence. You prioritize personal growth and are curious, open-minded and willing to work on yourself. You seek harmony with both inner and outer realms, aspiring to cultivate a sense of peace and fulfilment that goes beyond the material aspects of life. Use The Maia System y to find your life purpose and act on it!

★ BELIEVERS

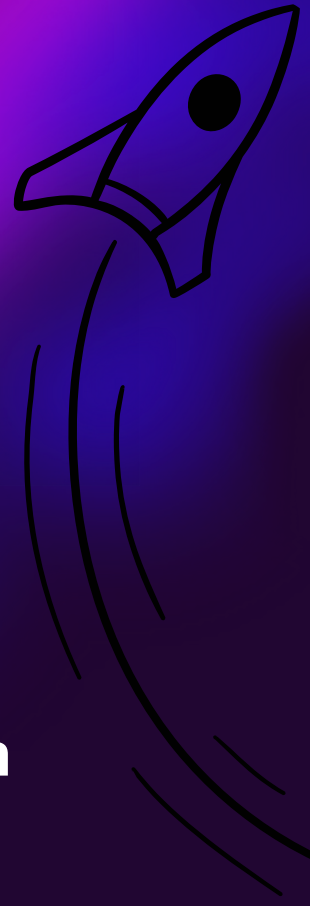

You believe in a new, sustainable world for the future. A harmonious, regenerative existence where ethical and universal principles guide individual and collective actions. Grounded in your ethical and spiritual beliefs, you aspire to co-create a better, more enlightened world where people live in balance with each other and the planet. Use The Maia System to create a better world for yourself and others.

★ ENTREPRENEURS

You are your own boss and you dare to dream big. You are loaded with good ideas and you love to create, build and, grow. But how can you transcend yourself and your business? How can you evolve to the next level of flow and financial abundance? The Maia System gives you a unique possibility to unlock your purpose, potential, and manifestation – deeply, logically, and spiritually.

THE MAIA SYSTEM

Why grow slow when you can grow fast?

The Maia System is an alternative to psychology, psychotherapy, coaching and the like in the sense that all of these methods work with uncovering who you are and help you overcome your challenges, gain clarity, and increase your life satisfaction. The Maia System however stands out from these others methods as it does not deal with your upbringing, background, and history but works only with your essential nature, i.e. your spiritual data. This indisputable makes The Maia System a much, much faster method for gaining self-knowledge and self-understanding.

“Everything you’ll get to know about yourself through The Maia System is facts rooted in data”

SANDER STENDERUP
CO FOUNDER

Knowing yourself starts and ends with your spiritual data

Spiritual data are your energetic code that depicts your personality, traits, natural talents, energy type, life purpose, life strategy, and much more. You are born with your spiritual data and they stay the same throughout your life.

Spiritual data are generated from your birth data, more precisely the positions of the planets at the time, date, and place you were born. Spiritual data are, in other words, founded in astronomy (the science of the planets and their location) and astrology (the influence of the planets on Earth and on people).

Spiritual data are not one result but many. The spiritual data that are used in The Maia System come from the three spiritual systems, Human Design, astrology, and numerology. These three systems use very different tools and focus on quite different aspects of the human being. In Human Design, the spiritual data are presented and summarised in the body chart. In astrology, its through the horoscope, and in numerology, its through the numeroscope.

IN ORDER TO JOIN THE MAIA SYSTEM, YOU'LL NEED TO KNOW THE DATE, TIME, AND PLACE YOU WERE BORN. (IF YOU DON'T KNOW IT, PLEASE CONTACT US ANYWAY AND WE'LL SEE WHAT WE CAN DO).

Insights, growth, and cosmic truths

The Maia System is an online program designed to make you a better, more self-aware, intuitive, compassionate, and resilient human being. The journey consists of three forms of sessions: Personal coaching, expert sessions and action plan.

Personal coaching

In the first step of the journey, you meet with your personal coach and set your inner goals. What would you like to achieve on your journey? What are your current challenges? What will you like to work on? How do you become a better version? How do you step up your authenticity even further? How can you increase awareness, mindfulness, and your capacity of deep listening? The possibilities are endless.

Co-Expert session

The three experts meet and review the results and insights from their analyses. Further, they discuss them in relation to your goals. Afterwards your personal coach sends you the recording (one hour).

Action plan

Based on the conclusions from the expert session and the journey altogether, your personal coach works out your action plan which points a direction for the future of your personal leadership. It covers how you can continue to train your spiritual leadership skills, develop your unique gifts, and take action on your purpose in life.

THE THREE SYSTEMS

Human Design, astrology, and numerology all are spiritual systems, which, in our terminology, are systems based on spiritual data. In our opinion, these three systems are the greatest spiritual systems available to mankind.

HUMAN DESIGN

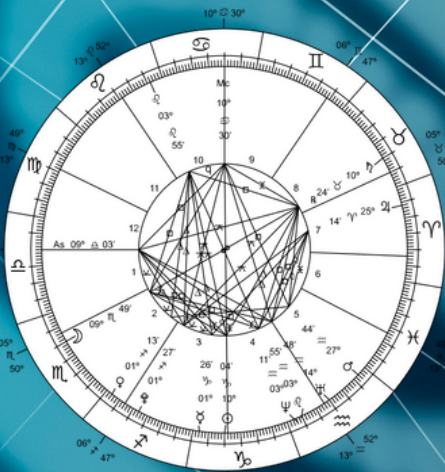

Human Design is a tool for expanding one's self-awareness and promoting one's self-development and enjoyment of life. It gives a deeper understanding of who you are as an individual and what emotions and thoughts move in your body and mind. This understanding can be a big step towards fulfilling one's potential and thus live a happier life.

ASTROLOGY

Astrology is an ancient analysis tool to describe certain energies and themes in the world and in us humans. Every person has a personal, unique horoscope. A horoscope can shed light on the individual's deeper needs, strengths, and challenges and act as a personal atlas.

NUMEROLOGY

The language of numerology is numbers, and the numbers are an expression of energy and vibration. With your date of birth comes a sequence of numbers which tells your energy type and your talents, strengths, and challenges – and how you use these as best as possible. These numbers are your personal codes for success, joy, and inspiration.

MEET US

The teams consists of the two founders Sander Stenderup and Missona Stenderup and experts from all over the world.

Sander is your personal coach and group facilitator, and Missona is your journey coordinator. The experts are high-qualified and are carefully chosen as the best within each system.

Sander Stenderup

co-founder

Sander is your personal coach and group facilitator. Besides being founders of The Maia System, Sander is a spiritual coach, meditation teacher, and musician. He is a 2/4 profile in Human Design, Scorpio and number 4 in numerology essence.

Missona Stenderup

Co founder

Missona is a futurist, teacher, and key-note speaker. She works at the crossroads between future studies and personal development and focuses especially on the future of work and spirituality as a megatrend. Missona sheds light on how we can open our minds to the transformative forces that guide us towards a deeper connection and understanding of our future journey.

THE THREE SYSTEMS [ELABORATED]

HUMAN DESIGN

What is Human Design?

Human Design is a tool that helps you discover your essential nature. It reveals rich information into how you function physically, psychologically and emotionally, how you master your energy, how you best make decisions, and how you should live, work, digest, sleep, etc. It is like a custom-made user manual for you only, to unlock your brilliance, talents and unique way of being.

It maps your unique genetic design with detailed information on both conscious and unconscious aspects of yourself and gives you concrete, actionable strategies and techniques for how you are supposed to live and lead your life in perfect alignment with who you truly are.

What can Human Design be used for?

A main theme in Human Design is conditioning, i.e., all the ways that society, the school system, the media, your upbringing, your relations and so on have shaped you away from your real self, and de-conditioning, which is to help you discover your true nature through the human design system.

Therefore, Human Design can help you see where you live incorrect so to speak and where you live in accordance with your nature. Discovering this will likely free you deeply and transform you on a level you never thought possible.

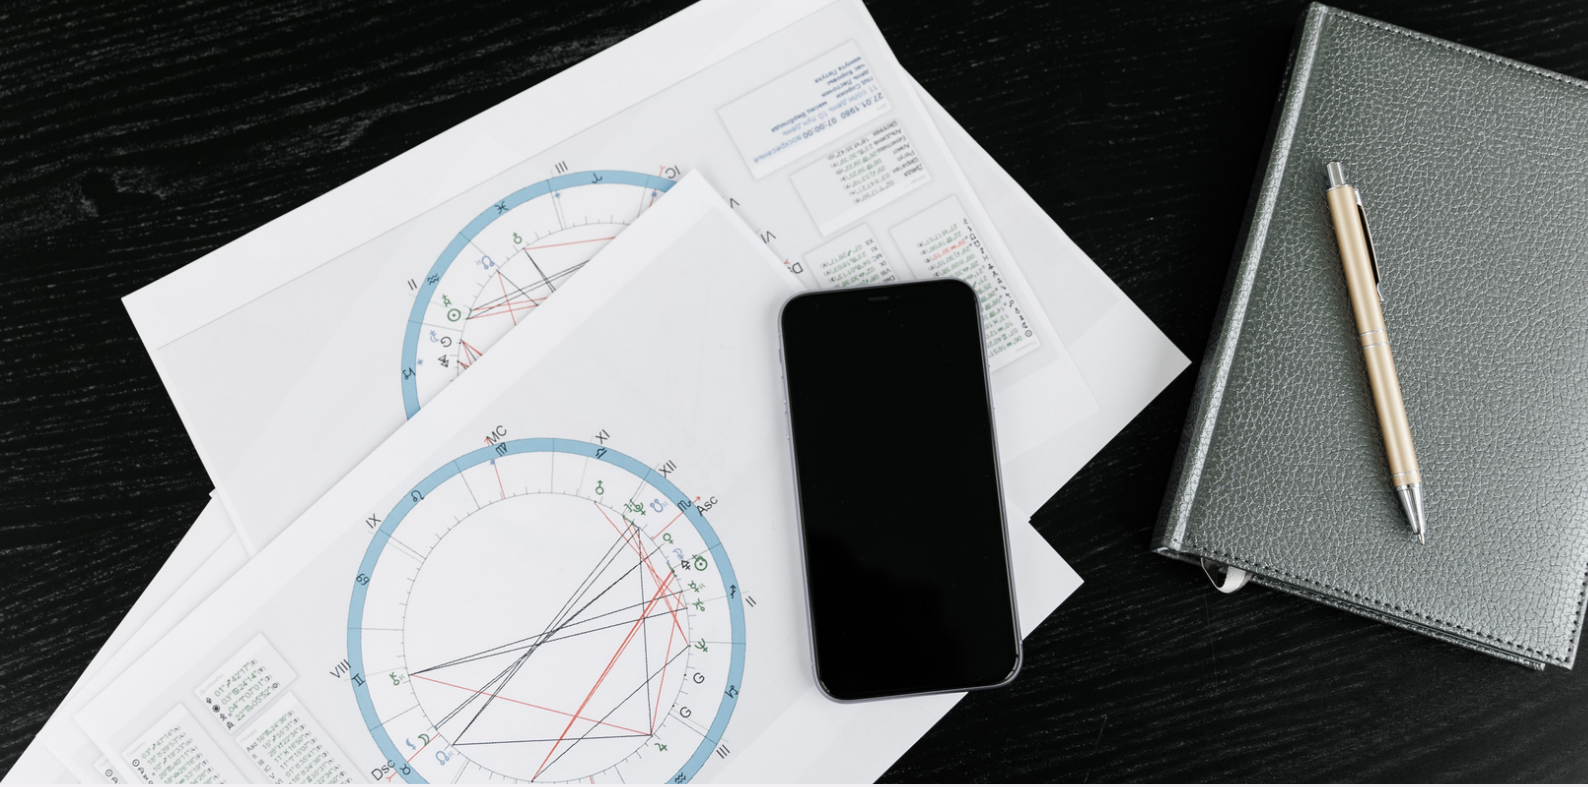

Human Design is highly practical, as it is very much about how you live on a daily basis (in terms of emotions, energy, senses, environment, digestion, sleep, etc.) and make right moment-to-moment decisions, therefore human design can indeed help you change your habits and lead your life with a high level of energy, productivity, enjoyment and ease. That said, it also informs you about your innate traits, talents, power and life purpose and so adds to your understanding of yourself as a leader and your role in the world.

Overall, human design can be used as a manual to make the best use of who you are. It most often leads to improved relationships, decisions, empowerment and leadership. In addition to the individual human design, Human Design can be used in companies and organisations to recruit employees, set teams, collaborate better and overall introduce a new and innovative approach to leadership and HR.

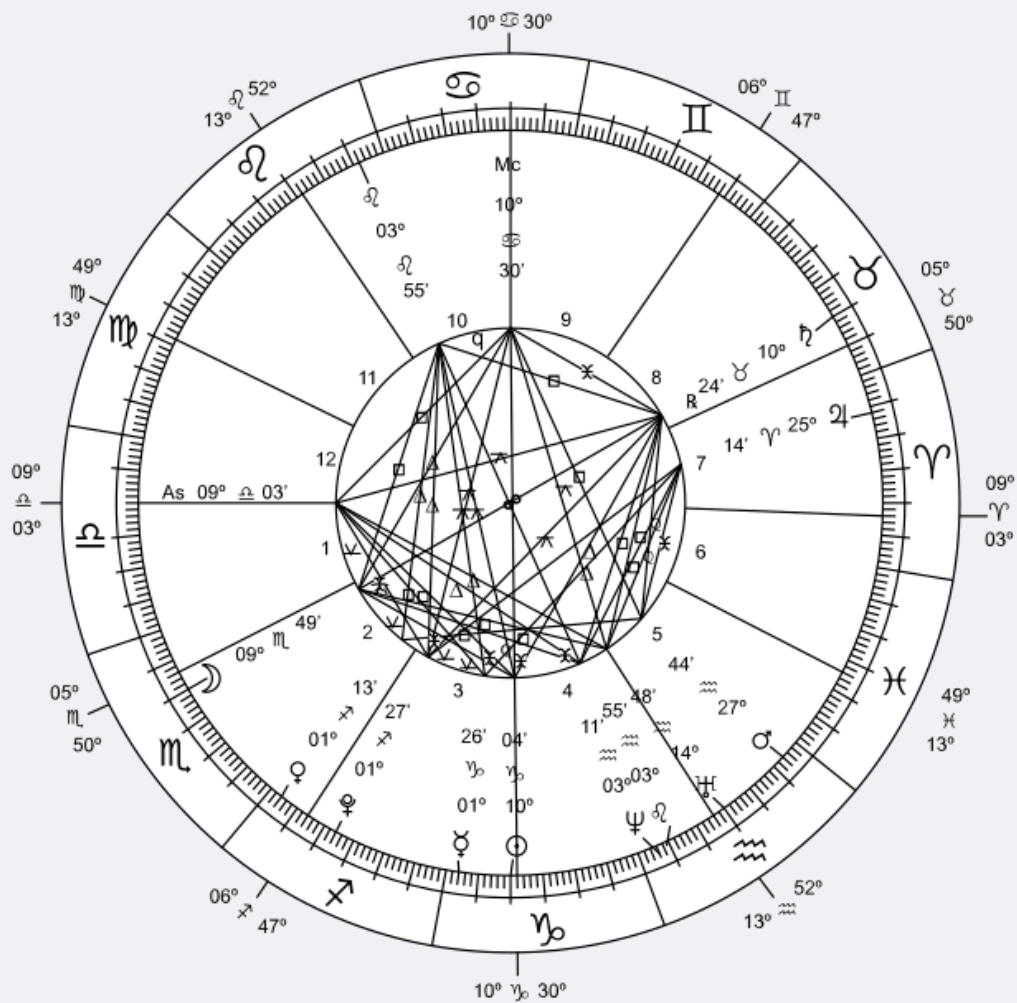

What is the science behind Human Design?

Human Design is a logical, empirical system that, similar to astrology and numerology, draws its information from the planets positions at the precise birth day, time and place of an individual. It uses the information to identify the individual's energy centres and create her design.

The system of Human Design was brought to Ra Uru Hu in 1987 as a spiritual download that lasted eight days. The system is a synthesis of ancient and modern sciences, more specifically it is a mix of the Kabbalah, the I Ching, astrology, biochemistry, genetics and the chakra system. A fundamental aspect of the system is based on what is scientifically known as neutrinos, which are small amount of mass that carries information. This information is what determines an individual's human design.

ASTROLOGY

What is Astrology?

Astrology is an ancient analytical tool to describe certain energies and themes in the world and in us humans, based on the movements of the planets. It has roots back in ancient Mesopotamia, 2000 years before our era and found its way to both Egypt and the Roman Empire.

Each person has a personal, unique horoscope based on the time and place of their birth. Through the use of archetypal themes refined over many hundreds of years, added to modern psychological knowledge, a horoscope can shed light on the individual's deeper needs, strengths and challenges and act as a personal atlas. And at the same time also contribute to an understanding of how your personal journey/development plays together with the current themes and energies right now.

The horoscope does not deterministically define everything about who you are and what you should, but is a model for unfolding a large part of your personality and viewing it from new angles. The horoscope is therefore a tool to strengthen you and to understand yourself better, with which it gives you the opportunity to experience that you yourself are a co-creator of your own life and your experience of life.

What can astrology be used for?

Astrology is a life hack. It's like getting an electric bike and a GPS at the same time. You still have to cycle yourself and can to a certain extent help decide the route yourself, but the hills, traffic lights, other road users and headwinds have not been abolished. Astrology therefore gives you the opportunity to take radical responsibility for your own life and for your own life experience and helps you to be a co-creator rather than just a participant in life. In addition, astrology provides increased awareness in all dimensions of life, with which you can, among other things, achieve better and deeper relationships, including the relationship with yourself.

In addition to a deeper self-understanding of needs, strengths and challenges/vulnerabilities, astrology can map your opportunities and potentials as well as limitations and which patterns must be released (and how), and which new qualities must be acquired in order to unfold strengths and potentials. Finally, astrology can also fix time, i.e. describe to a greater extent when certain periods of development will take place and within which areas, so that you have the opportunity to work with rather than against.

What is the science of astrology?

Astrology is not considered a science anymore, but together with astronomy, astrology was once considered the oldest known science. Various research projects have been carried out on astrology, the most famous of which was the French statistician Michel Gauquelin, who wanted to disprove astrology, but ended up doing the opposite based on the empirical evidence he found. It is not a natural science but a philosophy of science based on the principle “as above, so below”. Astrology is not something you have to believe in, but is an analytical tool that has proven its worth in practice.

An individual’s date and place of birth is his energetic fingerprint, which astrology can then decode, in the understanding that the individual will always act in accordance with his psychological self-understanding and level of consciousness as well as the time in which he/she/she lives (the movements of the current planets).

NUMEROLOGY

What is Numerology

Numerology is a discipline concerned with coding the energetic correlations in life. A numerologist's language is numbers, and the numbers are an expression of energy and vibration. With your date of birth comes a line of numbers that together tell your talents, strengths, challenges, psychological patterns, etc. These numbers are your personal codes for success and happiness for you to navigate your life from.

In addition to interpreting your personality, numerology can detect the vibrations of your name, which, it assumes, influences you in many aspects of life, such as love, career, health, wealth and inner harmony. Further, it can calculate your energy streams (when you have supportive energies versus non-supportive energies), your karmic relations (the people you are karmically connected to) and your destiny rhymes (how the planets influence you throughout your life).

What can numerology be used for?

Similar to astrology and Human Design, numerology is a tool that help you understand yourself and your gifts better and how you can realise your unique mission in life. It also explains how you function on a spiritual level and which challenges, themes and life lessons you have "signed up for". A numerological analysis often feels as a relief, as it becomes clear what is natural for you and what isn't. It will help you to let go of deep blockages and many of the things you struggle with and, ultimately, embrace the real you.

As numerology also can decode energy streams and destiny rhythms, it can be used as a compass when it comes to planning your life and living in accordance with the overall energetic influence of the planets. Further, it can help you improve your vibrations and thereby your “luck”, success and happiness, by changing your name. When you adjust your name, you adjust your vibrations and, in consequence, your emotions, thought patterns and behaviour.

What is the scientific background of numerology?

Numerology is not a science. It is an orally handed down tradition which is so old that the very original roots have been lost, and therefore no one knows exactly where numerology comes from. But what we actually do know (from historical sources) is that numerology is thousands of years old and has roots in different places in ancient times and in some of the earliest civilizations. There are for example numerological writings and calculations from ancient cultures in India, Mesopotamia and ancient Greece. One of the most renowned numerologists is Pythagoras from the ancient Greece. He is also the progenitor of the basic theory behind numerology, namely that all things can be expressed in numerical terms because they are ultimately reducible to numbers.
